About the Red Gold from Europe Campaign

RedGoldFromEurope
The Art Of Perfection Preserved For Your Table.

Red Gold from Europe is the promotional campaign launched by ANICAV and co-funded by the European Union dedicated to showcasing the quality, safety, sustainability, and versatility of high-quality canned tomatoes from Europe and Italy in the Middle East.

The campaign aims to educate consumers in Qatar, Saudi Arabia and Bahrain about the unique benefits of incorporating canned tomatoes into their daily diets while enhancing appreciation for traditional European agricultural practices.

Canned tomatoes have been a staple in Italian kitchens for generations, and with their focus on quality, safety, sustainability, and versatility, they are a perfect choice for Middle Eastern households, bringing their savoury and intense flavour to every dish.

ANICAV

ANICAV - the Italian Association of Canned Vegetables Industries – is the largest association representing tomato processing companies in the world.

ANICAV members transform over 60% of all tomatoes processed in Italy and almost all the whole peeled tomatoes produced in the world. In addition, 15 member companies - approximately 80% of the companies belonging to the related PDO Consortium - produce San Marzano PDO tomatoes. First founded in Naples in 1945, today ANICAV promotes the sustainable development of the entire community along the supply chain, embracing a business culture, legality, ethics, transparency, respect for workers' rights, and respect for the environment.

Red Gold from Europe - Rich In Essential Nutrients

Canned European tomatoes, picked and preserved at peak ripeness, are a perfect choice for year-round use. They are more environmentally friendly than out-of-season fresh tomatoes which are shipped over long distances in the winter or grown in heated greenhouses.

What's more, the processing method preserves all their qualities, making them a great source of nutrients like lycopene, a powerful antioxidant easily absorbed by the body. It's best to eat cooked tomatoes to maximize the effect of lycopene as the cooking process loosens the cellulose fibres and makes lycopene more easily absorbed by the body.

Tomatoes are a true source of energy and strength, full of beneficial substances. Low in fats, they are an ideal choice to keep fit and healthy. A good source of potassium, which helps regulate blood pressure, and vitamin C, which supports immunity, canned tomatoes are a convenient and versatile option for incorporating these nutrients into your daily diet.

Rich in Essential Nutrients

- Per 100 grams of canned tomatoes:
- Provides 24% of daily Vitamin C
- Contains 18 calories
- Includes 7 mg of lycopene
- Supplies 200–300 mg of potassium
- Contains 600 mg of iron
- Provides 700 mg of Vitamin A
- Contains 60 mg of Vitamin B1 (Thiamine)
- Contains 40 mg of Vitamin B2 (Riboflavin)

- Other mineral salts and vitamins include vitamins E, K, and PP. And they all contain phosphorus, calcium, boron, manganese, magnesium, iodine, copper, zinc, sodium, sulphur, citric acid, malic acid, sugars, biotin, niacin, folic acid, and provitamin A.

Red Gold from Europe - Passata (Tomato Purée)

Passata is an authentic product made from tomatoes In modern industrial processing plants, the tomatoes are carefully cleaned, crushed and sieved, and then the resulting tomato juice is heated to a temperature of 85 - 100 °C The tomato juice is then evaporated. In the evaporator, the concentration of tomato juice gradually increases after various stages until it reaches the required density.

Passata can add colour and flavour to dishes, making it perfect for dishes that require long and slow cooking, such as meat sauces, soup, stews and casseroles

- Slightly sweet and intense taste profile
- Perfect for both quick sauces (e.g., marinara) and slow-cooked ragù

Red Gold from Europe - Educational Tour To Italy

A successful educational tour organised by ANICAV – the Italian Association of Canned Vegetable Industries – and co-funded by the European Commission has concluded in Italy to promote the rich heritage of Italian canned tomatoes in Bahrain. This initiative showcased the essence of Italian cuisine to a select group of seven Bahraini opinion leaders, media representatives, and influencers.

During their time in Italy, the participants enjoyed an immersive experience including visits to lush tomato fields, where they learned about the cultivation and harvesting processes. They toured state-of-the-art tomato processing facilities, gaining insight into the meticulous methods used in creating high-quality canned tomatoes.

The tour also featured engaging masterclasses led by renowned chefs, allowing attendees to delve into the art of Italian cooking. Hands-on pizza sessions enabled participants to craft authentic Neapolitan pizzas, honing their skills and appreciating the delicious nuances of the ingredients. During the tour, tasting menus inspired by Neapolitan culinary traditions showcased the versatility of Italian canned tomatoes.

In addition to these unique culinary experiences, the Bahraini guests explored the major attractions of Naples and its surroundings, immersing themselves in the local culture and heritage that influences Italian cooking traditions.

The positive impact of the experience was reflected in feedback from the participants, who expressed enthusiasm about sharing what they had discovered and bringing a taste of Italy back to Bahrain.
